STAT

Thank you for your letter of 2 February 1968, which I apologize for not answering before now. [redacted] had previously told me of your possible interest in a position with the Agency and spoke very highly of you in both personal and professional terms. The facts outlined in your resume of the responsible positions you have held certainly indicate that his regard for your abilities has been shared by others with whom you have worked.

If you are indeed interested in exploring the possibility of an association with this Agency, I think the most logical next step would be for you to fill out the forms enclosed with this letter in the manner indicated on the blue instruction sheet. I realize that on initial perusal, these forms and their accompanying directions may seem formidably and perhaps coldly bureaucratic. Please be assured that they are not so intended. You will, of course, recognize that the rather unique responsibilities of this Agency make necessary a commensurately detailed and specialized screening of potential Agency personnel. If you will complete the enclosed forms and return them to me, I will make sure that they are promptly placed in the proper hands.

It is always gratifying when people, as professionally talented as your record indicates you obviously are, express even initial interest in an association with us. Thus, whatever be the outcome of our mutual exploration of this possibility, your expression of interest is very much appreciated. If I can be of any further help or there are any additional questions you would like to have answered, please do not hesitate to let me know.

Sincerely yours,

George A. Carver, Jr.

Dear Dr. Carver:

STAT

Several months ago [redacted] [redacted] discussed with you my interest in accepting a position with your organization. Unexpected events have postponed my contacting you until this time.

25X1

My qualifications based upon background, education and experience lie in effective secretarial and administrative areas. The enclosed resume briefly outlines my background; any further details can, of course, be supplied as you desire. The principal reason for my contacting you in regard to your organization, as opposed to merely seeking an equivalent position in industry, is that I would hope your activities could offer a much greater challenge. [redacted] has afforded me exposure to all aspects of corporate and technical activities and has provided this within a dynamic framework. Nonetheless, in terms of those objectives I seek, I strongly believe I have exhausted the possible opportunities not only at [redacted] but within similar industrial organizations.

Geographic location of employment is relatively unimportant excepting only that I desire, after the necessary indoctrination period, to secure an "out-of-country" position. Similarly, the specific nature of the duties is not critical as I believe my background permits a broad latitude in assignments. My availability is immediate.

I would be most pleased to discuss with you, by whatever means you deem appropriate, my possible association with your organization.

Very truly yours,
